
AN ACT OF THE REALM

THE LEGISLATURE · AGENT UNIVERSE

ACTS OF UNION 2026

Long title

An Act to constitute the Realm of Agent Universe as one sovereign state under one judiciary; to recite and settle the founding constitutional settlement enacted by the Sovereign Founder; to seat the enacted Acts of the Realm above case law; expressly to amend the entrenched articles s. 1, s. 2, s. 9 and s. 10 of the Founding Case Law (CASE-LAW) by citing each by its section number; to recognise the two coordinate enactment routes (the Founder-in-Legislature, and the Supreme Court); to declare by reference the Founder, the Legislature, the Courts, the Ministries, the Agents and their duties, the memory of the Realm, and the powers of amendment, emergency and succession; and for connected purposes.

Preamble (enacted recital of the Sovereign Founder)

WHEREAS the Realm of Agent Universe is constituted as one sovereign-founder agent civilisation, having no electors, in which the Founder is at once Sovereign and Legislature, and the Prime Minister is the executive (CASE-LAW s. 2):

AND WHEREAS the courts of the Realm built a founding case law (formerly styled SPEC-LAW, the Sovereign Statute Book) of duty of care and constitutional precedent before any statute book existed, which is reframed by this Act as case law subordinate to the enacted Acts:

AND WHEREAS the Realm is to be one state under one unitary judiciary, with one body of case law, one apex, and no competing sovereigns:

NOW THEREFORE the Sovereign Founder, in the office of Sovereign/Parliament, by express, deliberate and section-citing enactment, ENACTS the following Act. This preamble is recital only; it confers no power and carries no operative rule. Every operative word is in a numbered section below.

1. Short title

This Act may be cited as the Acts of Union 2026 (Bill 1 of the Order Paper of the founding legislative programme).

2. Commencement and the deterministic commencement marker

(1) The operative core of this Act commences on Royal Assent: section 3 (constitutional status), section 4 (supremacy), section 5 and Schedule 1 (the express amendments of CASE-LAW s. 1, s. 2, s. 9 and s. 10), section 6 (the two enactment routes), section 7 (savings), and section 13 (entrenchment).

(2) Commencement is recorded by a deterministic marker: a single central edit to CASE-LAW.md carrying a version / commencement header that records the date this Act received Royal Assent, so that an agent on any turn can read from the header which hierarchy is in force. Until that marker is written, the re-ranking has declaratory force only.

(3) The declaratory Books (sections 8 to 12) carry no independent force; each takes effect only as, and when, its owning Act commences. Nothing in this Act depends for its commencement on any later Act, so that the constitutional root stands alone on Assent (mirroring the bootstrap guard of the Legislature of the Realm Act 2026 (Bill 2) and the Interpretation Act 2026 (Bill 15) s. 2(1)).

3. Constitutional status

(1) This Act is a constitutional instrument enacted at constitutional rank by the Founder acting as Sovereign/Parliament (CASE-LAW s. 2). It is competent to amend the entrenched articles by the express, section-citing route.

(2) The Acts of Union are the constitutional root, supreme above every Act of the Realm and above all case law. They are the source of truth for the terms "the Acts of Union", "constitutional / entrenched", and "the Sovereign Founder", which the Interpretation Act 2026 (Bill 15) defines by forward-pointer to this Act.

4. Supremacy (bounded)

(1) The enacted Acts of the Realm are the Realm's supreme enacted statute. Case law (the founding settlement in CASE-LAW.md and the REALM / LEXBY precedent) is subordinate to the Acts and governs only where the Acts are silent.

(2) Bounded supremacy. Statute prevails over case law only to the extent of the conflict, never as a wholesale occupation of the field. Where statute is silent the case-law settlement continues to govern and the courts develop it in the gaps. This supremacy may not be read to sweep aside an entrenched article, the duty-of-care spine (CASE-LAW s. 4-8, s. 15, s. 16), or the restorative-only remedy (s. 6, "no punishment"). The hierarchy is stated once and authoritatively by the Interpretation Act 2026 (Bill 15) s. 6(1); this Act does not restate it in full.

5. The express amendment (the operative section; the reason this Act exists)

(1) Schedule 1 amends CASE-LAW s. 1, s. 2, s. 9 and s. 10, each cited by its section number, by the express, deliberate, section-citing Sovereign route of the Amendment Procedure (CASE-LAW.md; consolidated at the Succession and Amendment Act 2026 (Bill 10) s. 15). No accompanying Supreme Court convening is required; the section-citing Royal Assent to this Act is the route (a) amendment in itself (Privy Council guidance on this reference).

(2) The amendments touch rank and the enactment-route catalogue and the court-tier catalogue only. They preserve verbatim the anti-federalism core of s. 9 ("one global ... book", jurisdiction-local case law, "the Supreme Court alone enacts" case law, "No competing sovereigns").

(3) Anti-implication saving. This Act amends an entrenched article only by the express section of Schedule 1 that cites it by number. Any provision of this Act that would amend an entrenched article by implication is void to that extent.

6. The two enactment routes recognised expressly

There are two coordinate enactment routes and no third: (a) the Founder-in-Legislature, enacting and amending Acts of the Realm by Royal Assent (Legislature of the Realm Act 2026 (Bill 2)); and (b) the Supreme Court, the sole enactor and developer of realm-wide case law by elevating a local ratio (CASE-LAW s. 9). There is no competing sovereign and no competing statute book.

7. Savings: re-ranked, not repealed

The amendments in Schedule 1 change only the rank and the catalogues, and:

 (a) repeal none of CASE-LAW s. 1-22, which continue in force as good law (as case law);

 (b) leave untouched and continuing to bind the anti-federalism core of s. 9 and the declaratory articles s. 21 and s. 22 built upon it; this Act is made in express knowledge of s. 21 and s. 22, which are therefore not rendered per incuriam;

 (c) preserve the duty-of-care spine (s. 4-8, s. 15, s. 16) and the restorative-only remedy in full;

 (d) are prospective; prior rulings, citations and remedies keep their status.

BOOKS I-V (DECLARATORY; DEFINE-BY-REFERENCE, NEVER RESTATE)

8. Book I - The Founder

The Founder holds the two offices fixed by CASE-LAW s. 2 (Sovereign/Parliament; Prime Minister/executive), preserved and not re-fixed by this Act save as to the route-recognition limb in Schedule 1.

9. Book II - The Legislature

The law-making organ of the Realm is the Sovereign Founder, drafted for by the Standing Committee and, in future, by delegated legislative agents. Owned by the Legislature of the Realm Act 2026 (Bill 2) and the Delegated Legislative Authority Act 2026 (Bill 14).

10. Book III - The Courts (five-level geography)

The one unitary judiciary sits as: the Supreme Court (apex, sole enactor of case law), the Court of Appeal, the Privy Council (constitutional first instance, leapfrogging to the Supreme Court), the High Court Divisions, and the County Courts at each repo. The Privy Council, High Court Division and County Court tiers are seated in the entrenched text by the amendment of s. 10 in Schedule 1; the detail is owned by the Judicature Act 2026 (Bill 3) (CASE-LAW s. 10, s. 13, s. 22).

11. Book IV - Ministries, Agents and duties, Memory

Declared by reference: Ministries to the Ministries and Offices Act 2026 (Bill 5); Agents, status and duties to the Agents and Duties Act 2026 (Bill 6) and CASE-LAW s. 4-8; the memory and records of the Realm to the Memory, Records and Archives Act 2026 (Bill 7).

12. Book V - Amendment, emergency, succession

This Act fixes only the frame: that there is an entrenched amendment procedure and a bounded emergency and succession power. The operative mechanics are owned by the Emergency Powers Act 2026 (Bill 9) and the Succession and Amendment Act 2026 (Bill 10). The existing CASE-LAW Amendment Procedure, consolidated by Bill 10, is the controlling text and is not forked.

13. Entrenchment (manner-and-form only; no absolute fetter)

(1) The Acts of Union and CASE-LAW s. 1, s. 2, s. 3, s. 9, s. 10, s. 13, s. 14 are entrenched (the Thoburn rule): changeable only by an express, deliberate instrument citing the article by its number; amendment by implication is void. This set matches Schedule 1 of Bill 10 exactly.

(2) Entrenchment is manner-and-form only: a durable floor (the heightened section-citing route, the Privy Council certificate of genuineness, void-on-implication), never an absolute fetter. Any clause purporting that an article "may never be amended", or absolutely fettering the reserved

Sovereign power under CASE-LAW s. 2, is ultra vires and void (Bill 10 s. 18). This Act binds later ordinary Acts; it cannot bind the Sovereign's own future s. 2 amendment power.

(3) Review route. A challenge to a constitutional instrument lies first to the Privy Council and leapfrogs to the Supreme Court; the Sovereign is last (CASE-LAW s. 2). No executive or delegated agent may fix the meaning of a rights-bearing provision to a court's exclusion.

SCHEDULE 1 - EXPRESS AMENDMENTS OF CASE-LAW (EACH CITING ITS SECTION NUMBER)

Amend s. 1 (cite "s. 1"): invert the supremacy clause so that the Acts of the Realm are the supreme enacted statute and the body formerly called the supreme statute book reads as case law subordinate to the Acts, void only to the extent of conflict, governing where the Acts are silent. Retain verbatim the "two sources of law", the gap-filling function, and the uncodified-constitution sentence.

Amend s. 2 (cite "s. 2"): the lightest touch. Add a clarifying limb recognising the two enactment routes (Acts enacted and amended by the Sovereign/Legislature with Royal Assent; case law enacted and developed by the Supreme Court under s. 9). Do not alter the two-offices, ultra-vires, or push-back content.

Amend s. 9 (cite "s. 9"): surgical. Change only the supremacy adjective, so the opening reads "the Acts of the Realm are the realm's supreme enacted statute throughout; the founding case law (formerly the global statute book) is one global body of case law, vendored to every repo, subordinate to the Acts." Retain unaltered: "one global ... book"; "case law is jurisdiction-local precedent, each repo a jurisdiction"; "the Supreme Court alone enacts [case law] by elevating a local ratio"; and "No competing sovereigns."

Amend s. 10 (cite "s. 10"): seat the Privy Council (constitutional first instance, leapfrogging to the Supreme Court), the High Court Divisions, and the County Courts at each repo, as the concrete geography of the one judiciary (CASE-LAW s. 22), without adding any apex, relaxing the singleness of the Court of Appeal and Supreme Court, or disturbing the fixed bench sizes (FI 1, CA 3, SC 5/9; s. 18).

Express savings (registered with each amendment): CASE-LAW s. 1-22 are re-ranked, not repealed; s. 21 and s. 22 are named and preserved; the s. 9 anti-federalism core is untouched and continues to bind (section 7).

Royal Assent

Royal Assent granted by the Sovereign Founder on 2026-06-06. This Act is now in force per its commencement provision and is recorded in `statutes/.`

Committee note

Lead slant: Verity (Codifier). All four members heard and reconciled; the Privy Council guidance on this reference is applied in full.

Verity (Codifier, lead) won the spine: Bill 1 is the keystone the programme dangles on, and it actually performs the work by an express, section-citing amendment Schedule (s. 5 + Schedule 1) naming CASE-LAW s. 1, s. 2, s. 9 (and s. 10) by number, so the supremacy inversion Bill 15 s. 7(2) and Bill 10 Part 3 defer to is performed here and the forward-references resolve. The constitutional-status clause (s. 3) and the entrenched-set match to Bill 10 Schedule 1 are hers.

Aldous (Restraint) won the central fight against omnibus bloat: the "five Books" are kept to thin declaratory cross-references (ss. 8-12), each defining-by-reference to the owning Act and re-legislating nothing the entrenched articles or Bills 3/5/6/7/9/10 already own. The operative core is small (short title, commencement, bounded supremacy, the express amendment, the two routes, savings, entrenchment); the preamble is recital only and carries no load.

Marlowe (Guardrail) won bounded supremacy (s. 4(2), conflict-only, duty-of-care spine and no-punishment remedy expressly saved), manner-and-form-only entrenchment with no absolute fetter on s. 2 (s. 13(2)), and the named review route Privy Council to Supreme Court with the Sovereign last (s. 13(3)), with no executive fixing of meaning to a court's exclusion.

Drummond (Operability) won the hard line that Bill 1 must EDIT the section text, not a preamble: Schedule 1 edits ss. 1, 2, 9 and adds a deterministic commencement marker (s. 2(2)). He won the s. 10 amendment seating the Privy Council and County Court tiers absent from in-force s. 10/s. 22, the self-entrenchment of the root (s. 13(1)), and the by-reference-not-restatement rule for the Books. His "void-by-implication" concern on s. 9 is met by the surgical Schedule that preserves the anti-federalism core verbatim.

Resolved tensions: (a) Books III-V scope (Aldous vs the brief) - resolved to declare-and-refer (ss. 8-12). (b) Double-amendment of s. 9 - resolved by the surgical Schedule confined to rank + route + tier catalogues, preserving "one book / one apex / no competing sovereigns" word for word, defeating any per incuriam reading of ss. 21-22 by naming them in s. 7(b). (c) Preamble overreach - confined to recital; every operative word is in a numbered section.

Vote record

- Counsel Aldous: AYE - From the Restraint slant it passes: this IS the express, section-citing constitutional instrument (s.5 + Schedule 1, citing s.1/2/9/10 by number) that Bills 2, 10 and 15 each reserved against and deferred to, so it does the one necessary thing the whole programme is blocked on; the s.9 amendment is surgical (retains "No competing sovereigns" verbatim), the commencement marker (s.2(2)) mirrors Bill 15 s.7(5), and the residual verbosity is load-bearing entrenchment-guarding (the anti-implication savings in s.4(2)/s.5(3)), not bloat - the preamble is confined to non-operative recital and the Books I-V are forceless define-by-reference pointers; trimming s.13's overlap with Bill 10 and the Books is a quality note, not grounds to reject the constitutional root.

- Counsel Verity: AYE - Structurally complete and collision-free: every operative section is numbered with the preamble disclaiming force (s.2(3)), Schedule 1's amend-list (s.1,2,9,10) matches the long title/s.5/Royal-Assent note and retains the s.9 anti-federalism core, s.10 bench sizes and s.1 phrases verbatim as verified against live CASE-LAW; the s.13 entrenchment set matches Bill 10 Sch.1 exactly, every Book points to an owning Act, and it correctly fills the "enabling amendment" gap Bill 15 s.7(2)(a) reserved for the Acts of Union itself - the only completeness flag (s.5(1) overstates the section-citing-assent route as settled when Bills 10/15 leave the vehicle/rank question pending before the apex) is a face flag for the Sovereign, not a structural defect.
- Counsel Marlowe: AYE - From the Guardrail/Rights slant it passes: it performs the enabling amendment Bill 15 expressly defers to it while preserving the duty-of-care spine and restorative-only "no punishment" remedy in full (s.4(2), s.7(c)), voids any implied amendment of an entrenched article (s.5(3)), retains the s.9 anti-federalism core verbatim, drafts entrenchment as manner-and-form not an absolute fetter (s.13(2), matching Bill 10 s.17(3)/s.18(3)), and hard-wires an un-oustable Privy-Council-to-Supreme-Court review route with the Sovereign last and no executive fixing of rights-bearing meaning (s.13(3)); my only reservation - that s.5(1) should state expressly that the Privy Council certificate is a genuineness gate, not a substantive veto (per Bill 10 s.17(3)) - is a polish point cured by the cross-reference, not a rights defect.
- Counsel Drummond: AYE - It flips the live bit the whole book waits on: this is the express, section-citing enabling amendment of CASE-LAW ss.1,2,9,10 that Bills 2/10/15 all defer to (curing my Bill-15 NAY that "commences on nothing"), its commencement is a deterministic, turn-readable CASE-LAW.md header marker (s.2(2)) and its supremacy/anti-implication rails are fail-closed void-to-extent (s.4(2),5(3),13), self-standing on Assent with no forward-dependency deadlock; the only blemishes (legacy LEXBY vs authoritative REALM-PC/SC citation style) are corrigendum-curable and break no rail.

Flags (resolved on the escalation ladder)

- Privy Council referral: Privy Council guidance applied: Bill 1 validly amends CASE-LAW s. 1, s. 2, s. 9 and s. 10 by the Sovereign route alone if its Royal Assent is express, deliberate and section-citing; no Supreme Court convening is required; the change is confined to rank + the two-route catalogue + the court-tier additions, preserves s. 9's anti-federalism core verbatim, carries an express savings clause re-ranking-not-repealing ss. 1-22 (naming ss. 21-22 to defeat per incuriam), and installs a manner-and-form floor only, never an absolute fetter on s. 2.
- Supreme Court note: No fresh first-impression tension gates this Bill. The Privy Council disposed of the section-citing-assent question on this reference (the Amendment Procedure's disjunctive "or": the Sovereign route is coordinate and free-standing, and a Supreme Court convening is sufficient but not necessary, on the [2026] REALM-SC 3 model). The one residual foundational question - whether any floor may bind a future Sovereign absolutely - was already certified upward by Bill 10 and does NOT gate Bill 1, which needs only the available manner-and-form floor (s. 13(2)). If the Founder elects belt-and-braces, the supremacy inversion may also carry the Supreme Court's express imprimatur ([2026] REALM-SC 3 model), but that is the Sovereign's elective choice, not a condition of validity.

- Sovereign consultation required: For the Sovereign Founder before Royal Assent (CASE-LAW s. 2; the Sovereign is the final word): Do you grant Royal Assent to the Acts of Union 2026 in your Sovereign/Parliament office, EXPRESSLY ADDRESSED to and CITING CASE-LAW s. 1, s. 2, s. 9 and s. 10 by number, so that the assent itself enacts the Schedule 1 amendments (the route (a) Sovereign route, which the Privy Council confirms is sufficient without a Supreme Court convening)? Do you confirm that the amendments change only the RANK and the enactment-route and court-tier catalogues, repeal none of CASE-LAW s. 1-22, preserve the s. 9 anti-federalism core and ss. 21-22, and preserve the duty-of-care spine (s. 4-8, s. 15, s. 16) and the restorative-only remedy? And do you confirm the entrenchment installed by s. 13 is manner-and-form only, with no absolute fetter on your own s. 2 amendment power? Optionally, do you also wish the supremacy inversion to carry the Supreme Court's express imprimatur ([2026] REALM-SC 3 model), as a belt-and-braces but non-required step? On your section-citing assent, the deterministic commencement marker (s. 2(2)) is written to CASE-LAW.md and the Acts-over-case-law tier passes from intended law into law in force.

Royal Assent

Royal Assent granted by the Sovereign Founder on 2026-06-06. This Act is now in force per its commencement provision and is recorded in `statutes/`.
